

Which calculator is right for me?

A scientific calculator is a learning tool designed to help students better understand concepts in math and science. Check out the chart below to determine which TI scientific calculator is right for you.

	TI-30Xa	TI-30XIIS	TI-30XS MultiView™	TI-34 MultiView™	TI-36X Pro
Permitted on tests*
SAT®	●	●	●	●	●
ACT®	●	●	●	●	●
AP®	●	●	●	●	●
Key features
Display lines	1	2	4	4	4
Type of power	Battery	Solar/Battery	Solar/Battery	Solar/Battery	Solar/Battery
MathPrint™ feature			●	●	●
Edit, cut, paste entries		●	●	●	●
Fraction features	Decimal conversion	Decimal conversion	Full math conversion	Fraction simplification	Full math conversion
1- and 2- variable statistics	1	2	2	2	2
Trig, log, exponents	●	●	●	●	●
Probability		●	●	●	●
(x-y) tables			●		●
Regressions and distributions					●
Three solvers: numeric equation, polynomial and system of linear equations					●
Numeric differentiation and integration					●
Appropriate for these courses
General math	●	●	●	●
Pre-algebra	●	●	●	●
Algebra 1 and 2	●	●	●	●	●
General science	●	●	●	●
Middle school math				●
Geometry		●	●	●	●
Statistics		●	●		●
Biology			●		●
Chemistry			●		●
Pre-calculus					●
Calculus					●
Physics					●
Computer science					●
Engineering					●

SAT and AP are registered trademarks of the College Entrance Examination Board. ACT is a registered trademark of ACT Inc. None was involved in the production of nor endorses TI products.

For more information: ti-cares@ti.com | 1.800.TI.CARES | education.ti.com/support

